Note that because the order of covering the points is already defined, the problem just reduces to figuring out the way to calculate the distance between 2 points (A, B) and (C, D).

Can you think of a formula for calculating the distance in O(1) ?